

Dear Prospective Faculty and Guest Musicians,

Thank you for your interest in facilitating the summer experience at Holden Village in 2024. We invite proposals from prospective teaching faculty and guest musicians (collectively referred to below as “facilitators”). We seek candidates who are flexible and open as well as experts in their field. All are valued and vital members of the summer program. The education team develops a slate for each week from among the varied proposals received.

The proposed 2024 summer schedule is described on the next page. The program will include visual and performing arts, the sciences, theology, justice work, music, global topics, movement, and more.

Teaching Faculty:

- Faculty can choose to design four sequential sessions or four stand-alone sessions.
- Session leading can involve lecture, group discussion, and/or experiential workshops from varying disciplines such as visual arts, movement, theater, and more.
- During your teaching week, Holden invites faculty to record a short podcast that offers a snapshot of your session content.
- In addition to teaching sessions, we invite faculty to engage in other community activities such as worship, informal coffee and conversation, performance, dish team, or book signing during the week.

Guest Musicians:

- Guest Musicians assist the pastor, worship assistant, and Village staff musician in leading worship and enlivening the community through music. These sacred spaces, held every day in a variety of styles and settings, draw on the gifts provided by the ever-changing Village community.
- Guest Musicians may also offer music in other ways according to their interests. The Village welcomes the sharing of music, both in and outside of worship settings, in whatever ways are most fitting for the musicians and guests present.

We will review proposals according to content, substance, audience engagement, and alignment with Holden’s core values. The selection team will identify a diverse, dynamic, and balanced array of topics and perspectives. Our goal is to establish a sense of our summer 2024 lineup by December. The 2024 theme is forthcoming. Thank you for your interest in serving Holden Village.

Warm regards,

Stacy Kitahata, Mark Bach, Kathie Bach

THE TENTATIVE 2024 SUMMER SCHEDULE

[Based on the probable boat schedule.]

Based on the success of the Summer 2022 and 2023 cohort models, we continue the pattern for Summer 2024. Facilitators arrive and depart on Fridays. Most guests arrive on Sundays and depart on Fridays. The weekly program will incorporate guests and facilitators in a mutual learning cohort for the days they are together. We are grateful for your interest and willingness to practice this rhythm.

For facilitators, Fridays include orientation to the Village, time to meet staff, settle in, and finish any remaining preparations. Friday evenings provide an opportunity for conversation with staff members and other facilitators as a way of opening the week together. On Saturdays, facilitators are invited to rest and explore.

Week 1: June 7-14	Week 7: July 19-26
Week 2: June 14-21	Week 8: July 26 - August 2
Week 3: June 21-28	Week 9: August 2-9
Week 4: June 28 - July 5	Week 10: August 9-16
Week 5: July 5-12	Week 11: August 16-23
Week 6: July 12-19	Week 12 (tentative): August 23 - August 30

ANTICIPATED DAILY SCHEDULE

Food and meals - Three meals are served Sunday-Friday, and two meals are served on Saturday. The Holden Kitchen accommodates dietary needs.

Sessions - Sessions are scheduled in the morning and afternoon Monday-Thursday. All sessions are optional for guests and they may choose other activities (such as crafting, dish team, hiking, naps, etc.) at the same time.

Children and youth - Narnia (programming for children 4-11) is available Monday-Thursday mornings from 8:30 to noon during the peak summer season. Programming for middle school and high school age youth is also scheduled throughout each week, Monday-Thursday.

Other opportunities - Art classes are offered Monday through Friday. Naturalist walks, snack bar/pool hall, and other experiences happen regularly.

Patterns of worship and prayer - Central to our daily rhythm and rooted in our Lutheran heritage, each day is honored as sacred. Every meal includes a moment of gratitude. Each evening guests, volunteers, and staff gather for about twenty minutes of music, song, and prayer. These daily practices of sacred space renew our purpose and identity as a community. Tuesday evening we celebrate with a one-hour communion service. People of any and all spiritual backgrounds and practices are welcome at Holden, and all Villagers are invited to participate and contribute leadership through conversation with our worship team.

TRAVEL SUPPORT:

Visit the "Getting to Holden" page on our website for information about reaching the remote Village. The cost of boat tickets to and from the Village as well as parking at Fields Point boat landing (if needed) is covered for all facilitators. Holden Village offers limited travel support. If you are able to pay for your travel, Holden will provide an acknowledgment of donation for tax purposes. More details will be included in an acceptance packet.

TECHNOLOGY:

While we do provide internet access for our guest faculty and musicians, internet bandwidth in our remote location is a shared resource. Make sure to download any large files to your computer or portable drive before you arrive. If needed, facilitators may use staff computers for word processing to prepare for sessions. If you plan a PowerPoint presentation during your session, please bring your own laptop to prevent compatibility issues, along with any flash drives or other media you might need.

LODGING and GUESTS:

Facilitators and their guests are typically housed in a chalet, a large house with shared bathrooms (with tub or shower), a living room, and kitchen. The simple rooms are a variety of sizes with different combinations of single and double beds. You and your party may be housed in one room. Some weeks facilitators and their guests may be housed in a lodge, also with shared bathrooms. Lodges generally have no living room or kitchen. Each facilitator may bring, at no charge, one adult guest, and either their own minor children OR two minor children who are related to the facilitator (such as grandchildren, nieces/nephews, etc.).
